Use May use: Look at Things.

Indiv. MOODS DETERMINING DESIRES.

When I am tired and weary
And nothing goes my way,
I thank the heavenly Father
For two nights to every day.

But when, once more, I'm rested
And all the world looks bright,
I thank him that he sends me
Two days to every night.

There's the pause before the battle,
There's the respite from the fray:
And that is how I reckon
Two nights to every day.

~~But when, once more, I'm rested,~~
And all the world looks bright,
~~I thank Him that he sends me~~

When the sunset glow has faded,
In a little while 'tis night!
And that is how I reckon
Two days to every night.

And so 'tis due, believe me,
To the way we look at things,
Whether we sigh and falter
Or whether we soar on wings!

"The way we look at things" determined by moods.

1. Moods of universalism, pantheism, agnosticism, atheism, arianism, fatalism, pessimism, optimism.
2. Changeable moods - changeable ways.
~~Looking down colored goggles~~
3. Different mood - different hue by day.
Pat - day - green

I. The way we look at things determined by interests.

1. School inspector examining primary division.
"Now, children, what else are we found in the earth besides coal?"
I & that the answer, of course, would be gold or copper or some other metal, but instead, a boy who was supremely fed up fishing spoke up confidently, "Worms, mister, worms."

2. "How much did your make on your trip?"

II. The way we look at things determined by prejudices.
Looking thru different colored goggles.

III. The only sure way of looking at things is determined by the trained mind, the controlled will, and the sympathizing heart.
